Style codes for carpet and wallhanging kits

The style codes included in the above table and throughout the catalogue are given as a guide to the period when the type of design would have first come into use.

It is worth remembering that if a carpet is, for example, Georgian, it could feature in any house from that era onwards.

A	Aubusson (French)
G	Georgian (1714 - 1830)
M	Modern (20th Century)
Med	Medieval
O	Oriental (eg. Chinese/Persian)
T	Traditional
V	Victorian (1837 - 1901)
WM	William Morris (late Victorian)
AN	Art Nouveau
AD	Art Deco

Bellpull kits

The bellpulls are stitched on 32 count gauze, which is much easier to work on than you might think (the holes are larger than those of 28 count evenweave, for instance). Try placing a piece of dark fabric on your lap when stitching, to help the fabric threads of the gauze to show up, work in a good light, and you should have no difficulty stitching one of these exquisite bellpulls. When finished with the addition of the exclusive cast metal hanger, which is easily attached, your finished bellpull will look brilliant!
